

Miranda Aguilar

Miranda Aguilar is a queer Filipina artist, living and working in Western Sydney. She is an associate artist with the community arts and media company CuriousWorks, where she is the lead facilitator of the CuriousWorks Curious Creators Writer's group, where she leads young, emerging Western Sydney writers in the creation of their own projects. It gave birth to the 2017 webseries, Las Rosas, a telenovela-inspired coming of age tale, on which Miranda acted as the showrunner and one of the lead writers. Her play, Let Me Know When You Get Home, was picked up by PWA for New Play Development, and recently had its first creative development with Q Theatre at The Joan in Penrith in 2018. As she continues her creative career, Miranda wants to continue combining her artistic practice with community engagement, and to give other young, emerging artists from underrepresented communities the same opportunities that she was given.